Dear Ian,

I meant to show you the enclosed when you were here Saturday, but we never got into my office and I forgot.

Dr. Davison is in Oswald's pocket notebook and there are some inconclusive Commission files.

He also figures in the Penkovsky case, which makes him even more interesting.

I would like this to remain confidential (but I have no objection to your telling Louis is you think it would interest him).

If it is not difficult for you to retrieve what your paper published on this, I would appreciate copies. I plan to use this in AGENT OSWALD.

As always, we enjoyed your visit very much.

Peewee is going to make you a wonderful companion. He is quite a puppy, with a real character and individuality.

Best regards,
